Advisors

CARL A. ANTONUCCI JR. has spent the past ten years as a reference librarian at various colleges and universities. Currently director of library services at Capital Community College, he holds two master’s degrees and is a doctoral candidate at Providence College. He particularly enjoys researching Rhode Island political history during the 1960s and 1970s.

KATHY ARSENAULT is the dean of library at the University of South Florida, St. Petersburg’s Poynter Library. She holds a master’s degree in Library Science. She has written numerous book reviews for Library Journal, and has published articles in such publications as the Journal of the Florida Medical Association and Collection Management.

JAMES RETTIG holds two master’s degrees. He has written numerous articles and has edited Distinguished Classics of Reference Publishing (1992). University librarian at the University of Richmond, he is the recipient of three American Library Association awards: the Isadore Gibert Mudge Citation (1988), the G.K. Hall Award for Library Literature (1993), and the Louis Shores-Oryx Press Award (1995).

HILDA K. WEISBURG is the head library media specialist at Morristown High School Library and specializes in building school library media programs. She has several publications to her credit, including The School Librarians Workshop, Puzzles, Patterns, and Problem Solving: Creative Connections to Critical Thinking, and Learning, Linking & Critical Thinking: Information Strategies for the K-12 Library Media Curriculum.

Contributors

DENNIS A. CASTILLO received his doctorate in the History of Christianity from the University of Chicago. Currently an associate professor of Church History at Christ the King Seminary in East Aurora, New York, he is at work on his first book, The Maltese Cross: A Military History of Malta. A Detroit native, he now lives in Buffalo, New York.

Chapter: Religion.

PAUL G. CONNORS earned a doctorate in American History from Loyola University in Chicago. He has a strong interest in Great Lakes maritime history, and has contributed the article “Beaver Island Ice Walkers” to Michigan History. He has worked for the Michigan Legislative Service Bureau as a research analyst since 1996.

CHRISTOPHER CUMO is a staff writer for The Adjunct Advocate Magazine. Formerly an adjunct professor of history at Walsh University, he has written two books, A History of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, 1882–1997 and Seeds of Change, and has contributed to numerous scholarly journals. He holds a doctorate in History from the University of Akron.

Chapter Chronology, General Resources: Business and the Economy, Education, Medicine and Health, Science and Technology.

MICHAEL R. FEIN is an adjunct faculty member at Lesley University in Cambridge, Massachusetts. He is presently at work on a doctoral dissertation on twentieth century highway politics in New York. He has also contributed articles to The Encyclopedia of New York State and written book reviews for the Business History Review.

Chapter: Business and the Economy.

JENNIFER HELLER holds bachelor’s degrees in Religious Studies and English Education, as well as a master’s in Curriculum and Instruction, all from the University of Kansas. She has been an adjunct associate professor at Johnson County Community College in Kansas since 1998. She is currently at work on a dissertation on contemporary women’s religious literature.

Chapter Chronology, General Resources: Religion.

DAVID M. HOLFORD has worked as an adjunct instructor at Ohio University, Park College, and Columbus State Community College; education curator for the Ohio Historical Society; and held editorial positions at Glencoe/McGraw Hill and Holt, Rinehard, and Winston. He also holds a doctorate History from Ohio State University. A freelance writer/editor since 1996, he has published Herbert Hoover (1999) and Abraham Lincoln and the Emancipation Proclamation (2002).

Chapter Chronologies, General Resources: Lifestyles and Social Trends, The Media.

MILLIE JACKSON is an associate librarian at Grand Valley State University in Allendale, Michigan. She has previously worked as an English teacher and as the special collections librarian at Oklahoma State University. Dr. Jackson’s dissertation on ladies’s library associations in Michigan won the American Library Association’s Phyllis Dain Library History Dissertation Award in 2001.

Chapter: The Arts, Fashion and Design.

JONATHAN KOLKEY is the author of The New Right, 1960–1968, and Germany on the March: A Reinterpretation of War and Domestic Politics Over the Past Two Centuries. He earned a Ph.D. in history from UCLA. Currently an instructor at West Los Angeles College, he is at work on The Decision for War, a comprehensive historical study of the politics and decision-making process behind war. Dr. Kolkey lives in Playa Del Rey, California.

Chapter: The Arts, Fashion and Design.

LORNA BIDDLE RINEAR is the editor and coauthor of The Complete Idiot’s Guide to Women’s History. A Ph.D. candidate at Rutgers’ University, she holds a B.A. from Wellesley College and a master’s degree from Boston College. She resides in Bellingham, Massachusetts.

Chapter Chronologies, General Resources: The Arts, Fashion and Design.

MARY HERTZ SCARBROUGH earned both her B.A. in English and German and her J.D. from the University of South Dakota. Prior to becoming a freelance writer in 1996, she worked as a law clerk in the Federal District Court for the District of South Dakota and as legal counsel for the Immigration and Naturalization Service. She lives in Storm Lake, Iowa, with her husband and three daughters.

Chapter Chronology, General Resources: Law and Justice.

COREY SEESEAN is the assistant dean for library systems at the University of Toledo, University Libraries.

The author of numerous articles, book reviews, and encyclopedia entries, he is currently at work on a history of the Midwest League (a baseball minor league) and a history of autism.

Chapter: Sports.