

Carroll Publishing eDirectories

Now online on Gale Directory Library

Gale is proud to announce the addition of Carroll Publishing's government directories to the Gale Directory Library. Available in eDirectory format for the first time, these indispensable reference sources are now accessible through our state-of-the-art Gale Directory Library platform, providing 24/7 access and allowing for advanced searching, sorting and exporting capabilities.

For more than 30 years, Carroll Publishing's government directories have provided detailed and up-to-date information on U.S. government officials at all levels of government (federal, state, municipal and county). These trusted resources allow researchers to access hundreds of thousands of active government contacts, government facilities, and much more.

Federal Directory

This detailed reference provides contact information for members of all three branches of the U.S. government in a single resource. Published quarterly, each edition of the Federal Directory includes full contact details — including name, title, telephone, fax and e-mail address — for nearly 38,000 senior and mid-level government officials in the executive office of the President, all 15 cabinet level federal departments, independent agencies, the U.S. Congress and the federal court system.

Federal Regional Directory

Published twice per year, the Federal Regional Directory covers regional and field offices of federal government agencies, home-state offices for members of Congress, federal district courts and more. Each edition includes full contact information for more than 32,000 non-Washington-based executives in cabinet departments, U.S. Congress, the courts and independent agencies. It also features geographical listings of major agency offices outside Washington, details of agencies' jurisdictions and special listings, such as federal regional depository libraries and federal information centers.
