

Eighteenth Century Collections Online

All illustrations reproduced with kind permission of the British Library and the British Museum.

“A university that does not have ECCO is not a serious player in eighteenth-century British and American studies — in literature or anything else. Any institution giving graduate degrees in eighteenth-century subjects reduces itself to below minor-league status if it does not provide ECCO to its students — and is putting its publishing faculty at a crippling disadvantage.”

— Rob Hume, Pennsylvania State University

The Eighteenth Century Collections Online is the essential collection for eighteenth-century studies and is the most ambitious digitization project ever undertaken. The eighteenth century saw what many scholars believe to be three of the most significant events in world history: the American Revolution, the French Revolution and the Industrial Revolution. And now, three centuries later, Gale is pleased to offer a truly unprecedented resource: Eighteenth Century Collections Online. Derived from the Eighteenth Century Collection from Gale imprint Primary Source Microfilm, Eighteenth Century Collections Online's digitized format features over 138,00 English-language and foreign-language titles printed in the United Kingdom during the 18th century, along with thousands of important works from the Americas.

The Eighteenth Century Collections Online - the largest and most comprehensive online historical archive of its kind - is an essential resource for advanced study of the Age of Reason. Material found in this revolutionary resource is based on the English Short Title Catalogue bibliography and is derived from some of the world's largest and most prestigious university, private, public and research libraries. Eighteenth Century Collections Online not only offers full-text searching but also many levels of metadata, which will enable researchers to study this century in fresh and exciting ways.

FEATURES:

- 26 million pages of text from more than 138,000 titles (155,000 volumes)
- Full-text search capabilities
- Includes a variety of materials – from books and directories, Bibles and sheet music to sermons and advertisements
- Includes both well-known and lesser-known authors
- Canonical titles of the period as well as contemporary works that analyze and debate those same titles

The screenshot shows a search results page for Jonathan Swift's 'A Key to the Lock'. The top navigation bar includes 'Refinement for Reading', 'View PDF', and 'Map this Page'. Below this is a search bar with 'Revised Search' and 'Back to Results' buttons. A table of search results is displayed with columns for 'page numbers' and 'image number'. The main content area shows the title 'A KEY to the LOCK:' followed by a paragraph of text starting with 'A Treatise, proving beyond all contradiction the dangerous heresies of a late poet, entitled, The Essay of Mr. [redacted] to government and religion.' The page number '136' is visible in the top right corner of the document viewer.

Eighteenth Century Collections Online

SUBJECTS COVERED:

The value of this collection is that it makes hard-to-find material in every academic discipline available online including:

History and Geography

Ancient and contemporary history, accounts of voyages and discoveries, historical biographies and memoirs, genealogical collections, gazetteers, works on church antiquities and tourist guides of Britain. Topics include chronologies, recreation (travel, sports, parlor games), military history, maps, local history and topography. It should also be noted that this collection presents a comprehensive picture of the American Revolution from the British perspective.

Social Science

Materials on manufacturers and merchants, artisans and skilled workers, and international business, banking, taxation and lotteries. Topics include current events, social reform, business/economics/finance (general advertising, lotteries, trade bills and more), political science (parliamentary papers, political satire, political essays, speech/addresses, handbills, parish registers, poll books and more).

Fine Arts, Music, Art and Architecture

Treatises on music, painting, theater and architecture as well as books on building and carpentry, catalogs pertaining to vocal and instrumental music, paintings, prints, drawings, coins and metals and other collectibles, and material about private art collections.

Medicine, Science and Technology

Many branches of science, works on applied science and technology, and works and treatises on the treatment of diseases and conditions. Topics include agriculture, cookbooks, military technology, natural philosophy, scientific education and more.

Literature and Language

Celebrated eighteenth-century essayists, novelists, poets and playwrights, as well as Shakespeare's plays, poems and collected works. Topics include drama, poetry, ballads, religious poems, grammar, dictionaries, songs from plays, satire, book catalogues and more.

Religion and Philosophy

From sermons, Bibles and prayer books to moral and ethical debates and prescriptions for proper conduct.

Law

Development of law in the British Empire between 1701 and 1800. Topics include acts, criminal and international law, appellants' cases and more.

REFERENCE

Ephemeral material on the whole of life in the eighteenth century. Topics include almanacs, catalogues and more.

SEARCH FUNCTIONALITY:

Searching 26-million pages of text would have been impossible for any individual until Eighteenth Century Collections Online. Employing the dynamic Gale search functionality that librarians and their patrons across the world have come to trust — and new technology that identifies subtle differences in the actual text as it appeared in eighteenth century literature — this unique reference collection allows researchers to find books, text and authors more quickly and accurately. Just as the eighteenth century redefined how books were received and studied, Eighteenth Century Collections Online redefines how researchers access a century of the most influential works ever printed.

Basic Search

- Author
- Date of publication
- Full-text
- Subject Area
- Title

Advanced Search

- Front matter
- Main text
- Back-of-book indexes
- Publisher and place of publication
- Date of publication
- Subject Area
- Language
- Illustrated type
- Document number

Fuzzy Search

The 'fuzzy search' option expands the search to include words similar to search terms entered, thereby accommodating for spelling variations.

Eighteenth Century Collections Online is a reliable, state-of-the-art Web-based resource that appeals to every type of researcher who studies the eighteenth-century.

FREE TRIAL — For more information or to request a free trial of this unique collection, please contact your Gale Sales Representative or visit www.gale.com/GDCTrial.

DJ/SM 06/07 GML30407