Reviews

DISCovering® Nations, States, and Cultures:

"Deserves much praise. An excellent example of Gale's extraordinary reference assets. Complemented by very well designed software and has intuitive navigational, browsing, searching and output features. The depth of coverage is impressive. The articles are comprehensive, very well-written, up to date and don't limit themselves to dry scholarly information."

— Computers in Libraries (January 1999)

DISCovering series:

"The EXPLORING and DISCovering series cover all content areas attractively and with an impressive variety of search features. Strong curricular relevance. Attractive, intuitive interface. Powerful search features within each database."

— MultiMedia Schools (September/October 1998)

DISCovering® Biography:

"Overall rating: ☆☆☆☆. The great depth of this database would make it a valuable addition to any collection. The program is quick and simple to use for experienced and inexperienced users, and the concise entries contain information that is very informative and often surprising. Highly recommended."

The Gale DISCovering® Program

Making your library the most important resource in the school and community

Give students and patrons the tools they need to complete homework assignments and research projects. Give them The Gale DISCovering® Program. These revolutionary, easy-to-use databases were designed and created to support national standards in core curriculum subjects. Each title is filled with the information and analysis students need to answer the questions most commonly asked in subject areas such as science, history, geography and literature. Available online at www.galegroup.com and in network-ready CD-ROM format, The Gale DISCovering Program includes two types of titles. DISCovering databases cover the most popular subjects in high school and college and EXPLORING databases provide more in-depth information on particular areas of study. Information is presented in a variety of ways including essays, timelines, glossaries, photographs, statistics and multimedia elements.

The Gale DISCovering Program will enhance a variety of projects

The Gale DISCovering Program assists librarians, teachers, students and patrons in many ways:

- Teachers and librarians can use it as the foundation of a classroom learning unit or a high-interest addition to an established library collection in a particular subject area
- Educators will find an abundance of ideas for lesson plans. The Gale DISCovering Program is designed to support curriculum integration, team teaching and the use of technology in the classroom
- Students will use The Gale DISCovering Program products to meet their homework and research needs
- General researchers will have access to solutions for their information needs in the individual subject areas
- Multimedia features create an exciting new way to learn
