BASIC SEARCH BY KEYWORD, FULL TEXT OR AUTHOR

To broaden or narrow your search in one step, three types of searches are available from the Basic Search mode using the pull-down box:

- KEYWORD – Searches the entire collection for the presence of the search term (within the author's name, work titles and section headers)
- FULL TEXT – Searches the entire collection for the presence of the search term within the entire text of the article including keyword fields
- NAMED AUTHOR – Searches the entire collection for entries about a specific author and his/her works

You may further narrow your results by limiting to year(s) of publication, series, and number of results per page.

BROWSE AUTHORS

This tab brings up an A-Z list of all the authors, in the Dictionary of Literary Biography collection. Type a name in the search box and go directly to that place in the alphabetic list where the name appears. Or, select a letter and browse the list of authors that begin with that alpha character.

BROWSE VOLUMES

Displays an alphabetical list of all volumes ever published. Browse Volumes includes the option to re-sort by publication date. Search can be limited by subject and Dictionary of Literary Biography series.

ADVANCED SEARCH

- Combine your terms with Boolean operators (AND, OR, NOT) and additional limiters
- Conduct fuzzy searching (low, medium, or high) in order to retrieve near matches
- Search across two or three indexes: Full text, Keyword, Named Author
