

Gale Study Guides to Great Literature

Your access to great literary analysis

The Gale Group takes literary research to a higher level with these three new ongoing series. Priced and designed to fill your need for a cost-effective, circulating reference for literature research, these series present biographical, bibliographical and contextual information in volumes compiled and written by recognized authorities.

Three in one

The Gale Study Guides to Great Literature is a unique reference line composed of three series: Literary Masters, Literary Masterpieces and Literary Topics. Convenient, comprehensive and targeted to current coursework, the Guides put authors, titles and topics into context for high school and college students as well as general researchers.

Not to be confused with uninspiring reference "notes" that spoon-feed students essay answers, the Gale Study Guides feature original material designed to take advantage of the research process, resulting in thought-provoking observations. The series give educators and students a personal source that features not only literary movements and biographical facts, but the significant cultural and historical aspects of literary topics not included in comparative works.

Gale Study Guides to Literary Masters

Presented in chronological order, the Literary Masters series covers the major events that took place in the author's life and provides a point of reference that gives insight into experiences that may have influenced the writer's subject matter and writing style. This valuable reference reports the fascinating details of the author's life and helps students relate to the writer not only as a literary master, but also as an individual. In the Literary Masters series, look for these chapters:

- About the Author
- The Author at Work
- The Author's Era
- The Author's Works
- The Author on the Author
- The Author as Studied
- Other Resources on the Author
- Glossary of Terms
