

INFOTRAC®

Health Reference Center — Academic

A healthy, robust database for medical students, professionals and laypersons

How can you easily provide current, reliable health information for your patrons — including your nursing and allied health students? Give them access to Health Reference Center – Academic on InfoTrac Web. This multi-source database provides access to the full text of nursing and allied health journals, plus the wide variety of personal health information sources in InfoTrac’s award-winning Health Reference Center. All in a single, easy-to-use database, Health Reference Center – Academic integrates the full text and images of respected nursing, allied health and medical journals; consumer health magazines; newsletters; pamphlets; newspaper articles; topical overviews; and reference books. By subscribing through InfoTrac Web, your library gains 24-hour access to all these full text and image sources, through your preferred interface, with the right technical configuration for your needs.

Full text answers for academic and personal health research

With Health Reference Center – Academic, your library users can find current, full-text information for all of their health questions. The collection of leading medical journals, as well as nursing and allied health journals, provide the latest information specific to students’ courses and careers. And, laypersons will appreciate the wealth of personal health information available on a wide range of topics. The more than 700 sources in Health Reference Center – Academic ensure that they all get current and comprehensive answers to their health questions, written in accessible language. And with InfoTrac’s intuitive linking between sources, users can quickly find relevant information, all in the privacy of a self-service reference system.

Indexed/Full-Text Titles: 788/601

Plus more than 400 full-text pamphlets and selected health-related articles from an additional 1500 general interest magazines. Also included:

- Journals in medicine, health, nursing and allied health and other health-related areas
- Consumer health journals, including nutrition, men’s and women’s health, family health, and more
- Newsletters
- Newspaper articles from the Knight-Ridder/Tribune News Service
- 2,500+ topical overviews from Clinical Reference Systems

Source Type	Indexed	Full Text
Journals & magazines	1980 - Present	1980 - Present
Reference books	Current editions	Current editions
Topical overviews	Current editions	Current editions
Pamphlets	Current editions	Current editions

Easy access for your library and its users

Subscribe to Health Reference Center – Academic on InfoTrac Web and enjoy the benefits of a self-service health reference solution, on your preferred interface, with the right technical configuration for your library. Not only does InfoTrac Web provide round-the-clock Internet access to Health Reference Center – Academic, its open architecture allows you to make that connection using your existing computer resources. What’s more, Web access to InfoTrac allows users to view and print full text and image documents on any computer equipped with a Web browser, at any remote location.

InfoTrac Web offers a full range of access and delivery options to meet your particular requirements:

- 24-hour Web and dial-in access, expanding database availability beyond library walls and operating hours
- Precise control over remote Web access through the Remote Patron Authentication Service™
- Z39.50 compliance
- The ability to preview and order full text and image articles from dumb terminals, workstations, PCs and Macintoshes
- A centralized remote reference center — with a proven track record — that takes data storage and maintenance duties off your shoulders

Availability

Health Reference Center — Academic is available on CD-ROM and via Gale's online subscription service, InfoTrac Web. To further explore Health Reference Center — Academic, visit www.gale.com or call your Gale Representative at 1-800-877-GALE.

Full text available; no images currently available.

Call your Gale Representative for more information: 1-800-877-GALE