In addition to NewsRoom Library Edition titles, users will have access to many Dialog reference sources, including:

- Material Safety Data Sheets — OHS™
- MEDLINE®
- New England Journal of Medicine
- Population Demographics™

- Transportation Research Information Services (TRIS)
- WIPO/PCT Patent Fulltext

Limiting results is easy

With an interface similar to InfoTrac®, users will uncover the information they need quickly and easily. Searches may be limited in several ways. ReferenceLink and NewsRoom Library Edition content may be searched separately. Within each of these databases, search terms may be limited further.

A keyword search in ReferenceLink may be limited by date, free text, journal or year.

Category searches narrow results

ReferenceLink sources are subdivided into nine separate categories that can be searched separately. When conducting a search within a category, a static list of titles are accessed, although some sources are used in multiple categories.

The nine categories are:

- Business & Industry
- Education & Reference
- Environment & Energy
- Government
- Health & Medicine
- Import/Export Data
- Patents & Copyrights
- Science & Technology
- Statistics

▲ The Government search screen provides the user with category specific search fields

Within the individual categories, users can narrow the search further using criteria specific to that category. For example, in the Business & Industry category, users may limit their search using:

- Date
- Company name
- Main subject
- Product type
- Journal
- Year

In the upper right hand corner of each category's screen is a "sources" link. It contains detailed information on each title searched in the current category. For example, when a user conducts a search in the Patents & Copyrights category and clicks on the "sources" link, they will see the following title list:

- European Patents (FULL TEXT)
- INPADOC/Family and Legal Status
- U.S. Copyrights
- U.S. PATENTS (FULL TEXT)
- WIPO/PCT Patents (FULL TEXT)
