

Student Resource Center Junior

Provide the content and context middle school students need to develop and strengthen critical thinking skills with Student Resource Center Junior. Building upon a foundation of literary, science, history, social science and biographical databases, Student Resource Center Junior offers students easy access to award-winning content based on national curriculum standards. Flexible enough to accommodate any educational setting, it's the ideal application of Web technology for classroom, homework and self-directed studies. Developed to meet the distinct needs of middle school students, it addresses the diverse needs of users' skill levels, giving them the background, analysis and real-world applications of knowledge that will transform them from Web surfers to Web searchers. And, with unlimited building access and remote access, students can find the information they need whether they're in the classroom, the library, or working from home.

FEATURES THAT PROVIDE COMPREHENSIVE COVERAGE

A premium selection of original reference material, overviews, critical essays, a massive archive of primary source documents and periodicals, and full text from daily newspapers are available within Student Resource Center Junior. This comprehensive site features the information integrity you expect from Thomson Gale®. Look for:

- More than 48,000 biographies, essays and overviews
- Full-text articles from more than 350 newspapers, magazines and journals, updated daily
- Periodical back files to 1980
- 21,000-item timeline for historical context
- More than 15,000 photographs, maps and graphics
- 12,000 primary source documents, including diary entries, letters, recordings and more
- Three Merriam Webster's® dictionaries for immediate lookups
- And much more

This revolutionary Web-based application is offered exclusively to junior high schools. It is available for classroom and library work stations and can be made available to remote users as well.

▲ A variety of search options is available, including the opening Subject Search

▲ With so many search options, users can quickly find exactly what they are looking for

FREE TRIAL

Student Resource Center Junior is available for a free trial.

Please contact your Thomson Gale Sales Representative.

In the U.S. and Canada:
1-800-877-GALE or visit www.gale.com/SRC

Outside the U.S. and Canada: e-mail international@gale.com or visit www.gale.com/world

EXCEPTIONAL SEARCH OPTIONS

Student Resource Center Junior's state-of-the-art search features are furnished by InfoTrac,[®] Thomson Gale's powerful search engine, and include:

- Basic Subject for subject, keyword and full text search
- Advanced search
- Geography & Cultures search
- History search
- Literature search
- Person search
- Science & Health search

Its intuitive interface allows users to access a multimedia gallery without the learning curve necessary when searching multiple electronic sources. And search results are returned under tabs by document type, allowing students to focus on the information presented rather than typical Web-generated hit lists.

The Student Resource Center is available in other subscription packages designed to meet specific information needs and budgets for your school including:

- Gold — more than 1,200 full-text magazines
- Silver — more than 900 full-text magazines
- Bronze — more than 700 full-text magazines

▲ Full-text articles from more than 300 magazines and journals are updated daily

▲ The Advanced Search helps users pinpoint the right information