Contents

Why Consider Opposing Viewpoints? ........................................ 11
Introduction ........................................................................... 14

Chapter 1: Who Should Govern the North and South Poles?

Chapter Preface ....................................................................... 19
1. Territorial Claims Threaten the Antarctic
   James Bone ...................................................................... 22
2. The Antarctic Treaty System Provides the Best Governance
   British Antarctic Survey .................................................. 29
3. Antarctica Should Be Governed by the United Nations
   Martin Lishexian Lee ....................................................... 38
4. Antarctica Should Be Governed Jointly by the United Nations and the Antarctic Treaty System
   Janet Belkin ................................................................... 45
5. Territorial Claims Threaten the Arctic
   Adam Wolfe .................................................................... 56
6. An Arctic Treaty Should Be Established
   Rasmus Ole Rasmussen ................................................... 63
7. Canada Has Legal Claims to Arctic Territory and Waters
   François Côté and Robert Dufresne .................................. 70
8. The United States, Canada, and Denmark Should Jointly Control Arctic Waters
   Dianne DeMille ............................................................... 80

Periodical Bibliography ............................................................ 85
Chapter 2: How Does Climate Change Affect the North and South Poles?

Chapter Preface 87

1. The Polar Ice Melt Will Cause Ocean Levels to Rise Rapidly
   Colin Woodard 89

2. The Polar Ice Melt Will Not Cause Ocean Levels to Rise Rapidly
   Jerome J. Schmitt 94

3. Polar Indigenous Peoples Are Threatened by Climate Change
   Timo Koivurova, Henna Tervo, and Adam Stepien 101

4. Polar Indigenous Peoples Have Adapted to Climate Change in the Past
   Mirjam Macchi 107

5. Polar Bears Are Endangered by Climate Change
   Jamie Rappaport Clark 113

6. Polar Bears Are Not Endangered By Climate Change
   H. Sterling Burnett 121

Periodical Bibliography 127

Chapter 3: Should the Natural Resources of the Polar Regions Be Developed?

Chapter Preface 129

1. The Natural Resources of the Arctic Should Be Protected
   Falk Huettmann and Sue Hazlett 132

2. National Security Requires U.S. Development of the Arctic
   Ariel Cohen, Lajos F. Szaszdi and Jim Dolbow 137
3. Polar Indigenous Peoples May Benefit from Resource Development
   Felix von Geyer and Simon Handelsman

4. Polar Indigenous Peoples Will Be Harmed by Resource Development
   Macdonald Stainsby

5. The United States Must Drill for Oil in the Arctic
   Paul Driessen

6. The United States Should Not Drill for Oil in the Arctic
   Natural Resources Defense Council

Periodical Bibliography

Chapter 4: What Role Should Tourism Play in the North and South Poles?

Chapter Preface

1. Tourism Must Be Better Regulated in Antarctica
   The Antarctic and Southern Ocean Coalition

2. Tourism Is Well-Regulated in Antarctica
   Rebecca Roper-Gee

3. The Number of Tourists to Antarctica Should Be Limited
   Juan Kratzmaier

4. Polar Tourism Should Not Be Limited
   Simon Jenkins

Periodical Bibliography

For Further Discussion

Organizations to Contact

Bibliography of Books

Index