Contents

Introduction 7

1. Character Education Is Needed in Public Schools 10
   Charles C. Haynes and Marvin W. Berkowitz

2. Character Education Cannot Work in Public School 16
   Doug McManaman

3. The Public School Setting Is Ideal for Teaching Ethics 22
   Hannah McCrea

4. Literature Is an Effective Tool for Character Education 28
   Thomas Hibbs

5. Public Schools That Teach Character Help Close the Achievement Gap 33
   David Whitman

6. Public Schools Indoctrinate Students and Don’t Reflect the Majority’s Values 45
   Phyllis Schlafly

7. Public Schools Must Revive Moral Education 49
   William Damon

8. Public Schools Are the Source of the Decline in Morality Among Teens 60
   David N. Bass

9. Public Schools Should Be Abolished to Address Society’s Vast Moral Divide 64
   David Gelernter
10. Performance Values: Why They Matter and What Schools Can Do to Foster Their Development
   A Position Paper of the Character Education Partnership (CEP)

11. High School Ethics Course Affects Knowledge but Not Values
   M. Scott Niederjohn, Kim Nygard, and William C. Wood

12. Ethics Needs to Be Taught Early and Should Be Required in College
   Kevin Coupe

13. Ethics Courses for Students May Not Help but Will Not Hurt
   Naomi Goldin

Organizations to Contact

Bibliography

Index