

Contents

Introduction	7
1. The Death Penalty Violates the Constitution of the United States Justice John Paul Stevens	10
2. The Death Penalty Does Not Violate the U. S. Constitution Justice Antonin Gregory Scalia	16
3. Capital Punishment Is Morally Justified Casey Carmical	23
4. The Death Penalty Deters Murder Center for Individual Freedom	31
5. The Death Penalty Has Not Been Proven to Deter Murder Jeremy J. Collins	35
6. Capital Punishment Should Never Be Considered in Child Rape Cases Justice Anthony McLeod Kennedy	39
7. Capital Punishment Should Be Considered in Certain Child Rape Cases Justice Samuel Anthony Alito	50
8. Legislation Will Help Prevent Racial Bias in Death Penalty Convictions Desiree Evans	57
9. Legislation Will Not Help Prevent Racial Bias in Death Penalty Convictions Tara Servatius	61

10. Physician Participation in Executions Is Unethical Daniel N. Lerman	65
11. Physician Participation in Executions Is Not Unethical Dudley Sharp	73
12. The Death Penalty Violates Human Rights Amnesty International	80
13. The Death Penalty Should Be Decided Only Under a Specific Guideline Louis Klarevas	88
14. Capital Punishment Is Too Expensive to Retain Richard C. Dieter	93
15. Women Are More Often Spared the Death Penalty Gabrielle Banks	102
Organizations to Contact	109
Bibliography	115
Index	123