Contents

Preface vii
Acknowledgments ix
Literary Criticism Series Advisory Board xi

The Ghost Story
Introduction .................................................................................................... 1
Representative Works ..................................................................................... 2
Overviews and General Studies ..................................................................... 2
The Ghost Story in American Literature ..................................................... 21
The Ghost Story in Asian Literature ........................................................... 49
The Ghost Story in European and English Literature ................................. 54
Major Figures .............................................................................................. 89
Further Reading .......................................................................................... 141

Benedict Kiely 1919- ........................................................................................... 143
Irish short fiction writer, novelist, essayist, children’s author, and memoirist

James Salter 1925- .............................................................................................. 171
American short story writer, novelist, memoirist, and travel writer

William Trevor 1928- .......................................................................................... 198
Irish short fiction writer, novelist, playwright, essayist, and memoirist

Robert Penn Warren 1905-1989 ........................................................................ 303
American poet, novelist, short story writer, essayist, and playwright; entry devoted to Warren’s short story “Blackberry Winter” (1946)

Literary Criticism Series Cumulative Author Index 361
Literary Criticism Series Cumulative Topic Index 451
SSC Cumulative Nationality Index 461
SSC -58 Title Index 465